On Tuesday 26 January 1954, SI and H experimentation and research for carried out in Room 20, Building 13, by Messrs. [redacted] and [redacted] and using the following subjects: Misses [redacted].

The evening's session opened with a standard slow type induction which was ~~held~~ held for a considerable period of time in an effort to produce greater depth in all persons present. Immediately after, all subjects were awakened and another induction was run again making every effort to obtain greater depth. During this test each subject was instructed to open her eyes and appear normal but remain in a deep trance state. All subjects succeeded in obtaining this depth without effort. In view of the above successful testing, a thrid induction was run--this time via the telephone and using code words. In this test, all subjects were successfully inducted and wrote a brief statement while under hypnosis and still talking on the telephone and then carried out a series of activities including walking, moving about, etc. while still under full hypnosis and then passing into a deep sleep state without additional instruction.

For matter of record, numerous post-hypnotic suggestions were tried in connection with the above work and tests for depth were tried. All successful. As a special test on the subjects, all were given a simple post-hypnotic command for the next session. This PH was as soon as the subjects enter the operations room and seat themselves, they will immediately pass into a sleep state.
